CEO'S MESSAGE

2026 will be the 134th presentation of Cloverdale's treasured tradition, agricultural celebration, and the community of Cloverdale, CLOVERDALE CITRUS FAIR. Our fair loves being host to our neighbors and friends, be it far or near, living here now, or coming back home from across the areas, to enjoy our beloved fair. The Cloverdale Citrus Fair is a premier community event, and we are the First Fair each year across California.

This year's theme is "Celebrating 250 Years Then & Now". We are celebrating the rich history of our nation. From 1776 to now , we have experienced unique and ever-changing challenges, all of which has brought us to the 2026 fair. We hope our fair guests and fair families will be able to make new memories while at the same time pass along the traditions made through the rides, attractions, entertainment, and great food. We know that the 2026 fair will be a fair to remember and to look forward to providing the best venue for our community to gather, celebrate, showcase livestock, artwork, crafts, entertainment, and more for our community.

Please take a moment to read our Cloverdale Citrus Fair entry guide. We have an exhibit program for ages 3 to 133. Further, if you are not sure where to enter your quilt, or prized rabbit, chicken, or other small animal, please call our office and our still exhibits superintendent will guide you through the process on how to enter your exhibits in the fair. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me at Cloverdale Citrus Fair, 707 894 3992

GLOSSARY OF TERMS:

Hot Pack: Heating of raw food in boiling water or steam and filling it hot into jars.

Cold Pack: Canning procedure in which jars are filled with raw food. "Raw Pack" is the preferred term for describing this practice. "Cold Pack" is often used incorrectly to refer to foods that are open-kettle canned or jars that are heat-processed in boiling water.

Open Kettle Canning: A non-recommended canning method. Food is supposedly adequately heat processed in a covered kettle, and then filled hot and sealed in sterile jars.

Raw Pack: The practice of filling jars with raw, unheated food.

Pickling: The practice of adding enough vinegar or lemon juice to a low-acid food to lower its pH to 4.6 or lower.

Jelly: is made from strained fruit juice. The product is clear and firm enough to hold its shape when turned out of the container, yet soft enough to spread.

Jam: is made from crushed or ground fruit and tends to hold its shape but is generally less firm than jelly.

Butters: are made by cooking fruit pulp and sugar until thick enough to spread easily.

Conserves: are jams made from a mixture of fruits, usually including citrus fruit; often raisins and nuts are added.

Marmalade: is a tender jelly with small pieces of citrus fruit or citrus peel distributed evenly throughout.

Preserves: are whole fruits or large pieces of fruit in thick syrup, often slightly jellied.

RULES

1. LIMIT: One (1) entry per class.
2. Entries in these divisions must be home prepared and canned by the exhibitor within one (1) year of the opening day of the Cloverdale Citrus Fair.
3. Specify method of canning (see Glossary of Terms below).
4. Tasting of Preserved Foods will be at the judges' discretion. All divisions will be judged on appearance, safety and suitability, appearance, texture and flavor.
5. Please label jars with name, product and date on bottom.
6. Exhibits must be in standard jars, 4 oz. or greater. Two containers of each entry must be brought in; one to be used for judging and one for display during the Cloverdale Citrus Fair.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS:

Hot Pack: Heating of raw food in boiling water or steam and filling it hot into jars.

Cold Pack: Canning procedure in which jars are filled with raw food. "Raw Pack" is the preferred term for describing this practice. "Cold Pack" is often used incorrectly to refer to foods that are open-kettle canned or jars that are heat-processed in boiling water.

Open Kettle Canning: A non-recommended canning method. Food is supposedly adequately heat processed in a covered kettle, and then filled hot and sealed in sterile jars.

Raw Pack: The practice of filling jars with raw, unheated food.

Pickling: The practice of adding enough vinegar or lemon juice to a low-acid food to lower its pH to 4.6 or lower.

Jelly: is made from strained fruit juice. The product is clear and firm enough to hold its shape when turned out of the container, yet soft enough to spread.

Jam: is made from crushed or ground fruit and tends to hold its shape but is generally less firm than jelly.

Butters: are made by cooking fruit pulp and sugar until thick enough to spread easily.

Conserves: are jams made from a mixture of fruits, usually including citrus fruit; often raisins and nuts are added.

Marmalade: is a tender jelly with small pieces of citrus fruit or citrus peel distributed evenly throughout.

Preserves: are whole fruits or large pieces of fruit in thick syrup, often slightly jellied.
